Devon outfit Tuesday Syndicate return with an anthemic new single, 173, due for release on 18th May 2018 via May Day Music.

An intensely infectious track oozing with striking lyrics and catchy melodies, 173 further highlights Tuesday Syndicate's rich songwriting ability. Infused with cinematic vignette's and energetic beats, 173 is in a striking indie-rock track filled with alluring hooks and a memorable chorus.

Tuesday Syndicate formed five years ago with the aim of exploring an acoustic-folk sound. However, this sound has evolved over the years with the band hugely influenced by their coastal surroundings as they use the rousing splendour of the sea to help create their emotive brand of indie-rock. Following crowd pleasing sets at Isle Of Wight Festival and Shepherd's Bush Empire, and following the successful release of recent single Hourglass, Tuesday Syndicate are ready to wow the music loving public once again on 173.

173 by Tuesday Syndicate is out 18th May 2018 via May Day Music.
