

PRESS RELEASE

You've Been Trumped Screening Confirmed For Restless Natives Festival!

You've Been Trumped is a modern day David and Goliath story, documenting a group of Scottish homeowners taking on controversial tycoon Donald Trump. The film is due to be screened at Restless Natives Festival at 7.30pm on Sunday May 15th 2016 at Drygate.

In addition to the screening celebrated songwriter Jo Mango, who will perform a short live set, contributed music to a TV follow-up of You've Been Trumped called The Dark Side of the Green. The follow up documented local opposition to Donald Trump's plans to build a colossal golf course on the Aberdeenshire coastline. Scottish rapper and social commentator Loki will also take part in a post-screening discussion on the pros and perils of regeneration.

Donald Trump has bought hundreds of acres in Scotland to build golf courses, a hotel and luxury homes. But residents don't want to see this environmentally sensitive stretch of coast destroyed.

The film captures the cultural chasm between Trump and a deeply rooted Scottish community. Funny, inspiring and heartbreaking in turns, the film offers a revealing look at the aspiring Republican nominee for US President.

Tickets for the screening are priced at £7 and can be purchased from the Restless Natives website.

Restless Natives' heart and soul lies within the DIY scene as the festival not only aims to bring people together in and around the East End of Glasgow, generating income for the local community, bands and charities, but it also aims to promote ethnic diversity and gender equality throughout the program.
